WATERPROOFING UNDERLAYMENT

MetaLayment®

Waterproofing Underlayment

When it comes to applying a metal, shingle, slate or mechanically-fastened tile roof, you need an underlayment that will increase the protection of your investment. Fulfill that need with CertainTeed's MetaLayment®. Clogged gutters, high winds and ice dams cause water to accumulate on lower sloped roofs which can cause damage. MetaLayment can combat these elements. It is waterproof, does not rip and seals around nails driven through it.

Installs fast

The more jobs you complete, the more money you make. No underlayment features more installer-friendly features than MetaLayment.

- Self-adhering design sticks well to most surfaces.
- Split-release backing is easy to remove for speedier installation.
- Excellent elasticity delivers great stretch for easy handling whatever the temperature.
- MetaLayment is easy to adjust during application, ensuring a perfect job.

Convenient

Delays resulting from bad weather or other problems mean trouble for you. MetaLayment eliminates this concern, minimizing disruptions and maximizing profitability.

- MetaLayment can be left exposed for up to six months, with no damage to the underlayment or roof deck.

Unaffected by high temperatures

High temperatures caused by exposure to the sun during installation or when in place under the metal roof do not affect MetaLayment, unlike competing products.

- MetaLayment resists extreme temperatures generated by metal roofing systems (up to 250°F).
- Tack and overall construction are not compromised by high temperatures, making installation a breeze when the weather is hot.

Safe for installers and the metal roof

- Slip-resistant surface reduces risk of accidents.
- Membrane will not scratch the metal roof.
- Warranty duration of MetaLayment is the same as the roofing material applied over it, up to a maximum of fifty (50) years.
